BENHAM'S WARNING

Admiral De Gama Heeds the Advice of Our Admiral.

PROMISCUOUS FIRING STOPPED.

Hostilities Entirely Ceased for the First Time in Four Months—Ships of All Nations Can Now Enter the Harbor at Rio Without Molestation—Permission Asked to Bombard the City.

RIO JANEIRO, Feb. 1.—[Copyrighted, 1894, by the Associated Press.]—The action of Admiral Benham in protecting American ships in their effort to land at the wharves in this harbor has had a salutary effect. English and merchant ships of other nationalities are now coming up to their wharves without any sign of molestation on the part of the insurgent vessels.

Admiral Benham's bold stand against interference with vessels of his country is generally applauded.

The exchange of shots between the insurgents and the government forces has practically ceased during the past 24 hours. Yesterday was the first time for four months that a day has passed that there was not more or less firing. The unofficial warning which Admiral Benham gave to Admiral Da Gama that firing upon the wharves for the mere purpose of creating a blockade by terror must cease has been heeded. All the foreigners are delighted with the result of the American admiral's conduct.

The commanders of the foreign fleets held a conference yesterday to discuss the action of Admiral Benham, and resolutions were adopted fully endorsing the course that he pursued.

Much regret is expressed at the absence from Rio Janeiro of the American Consul General Townes. Vice Consul Lewis is little more than a boy, and Americans here hardly think him fitted to act as the representative of the United States at such a critical juncture. They say that his lack of familiarity with diplomatic affairs is liable to lead him constantly into blunders.

The report that Senhor Moura, minister of war, had resigned, is not true. It was his assistant, Senhor Galvao, who resigned.

The report that the Brazilian government's cruiser America had arrived outside this harbor on Monday proves to be without foundation.

Admiral Da Gama feels aggrieved at Admiral Benham. He sent a letter to the American admiral yesterday, protesting against the ostentatious manner in which the American commander had humiliated him. He says that he will yield for a time to superior force, but that as he was compelled to allow American ships to come to their wharves he has officially notified the representatives of all other nations that they may do the same. He declares that the insurgents have held the harbor for five months, and says that now, if the shore batteries fire on him, he will be unable to reply for fear of hurting neutral ships, and will also be unable to protect his men.

Admiral Da Gama also sent a letter to the officers who had gathered in conference to discuss Admiral Benham's action, asking that he might be permitted to bombard the city without notice. No answer was sent to him, but Admiral Benham said later to the Associated Press correspondent that he would grant the insurgent admiral permission to bombard the city, but he would require that 48 hours' notice be given so that non-combatants would be able to seek shelter.

NOTHING NEW AT WASHINGTON.

Admiral Benham Has Been Asked For Further Particulars.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Neither the state or navy department received any further information during the day on the Brazilian situation. Further information has been requested from Admiral Benham, as there seem to be one or two features of the incident that are rather vaguely understood by the department. It is not known, and it is thought to be not true, that any instructions have been sent to Admiral Benham other than the general instructions of all naval commanders, to protect the rights of American citizens. He announced to the navy department on last Saturday the course he proposed to pursue, and it was undoubtedly approved before he acted.

A surrender by Da Gama to Benham would embarrass this government and Admiral Benham has either signified that he understands this or has been warned of the fact. His purpose is not to be understood as intervening against the insurgents, but simply as protecting American interests against aggression by the insurgents, and the policy of the government is understood to be one of approval of Admiral Benham's course in compelling recognition of rights of American shipping while refraining from interference in the internecine struggle.

Said to Be Only Signal Shots.

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 1.—Dispatches received here from Rio Janeiro say that the Brazilian insurgents are making preparations for a vigorous attack upon Santos and Sao Paulo.

The news that firing had taken place between the United States warships and the insurgent vessels seems to have been greatly exaggerated.

Dispatches received say that only signal shots were exchanged and no shot was fired in real earnest. It is added that the insurgents feel discouraged at Admiral De Gama's surrender to the United States admiral and that it is reported that the younger officers are in favor of having Admiral De Gama replaced by a younger and more energetic commander.

A PLEA FOR LILUOKALANI.

The Ex-Queen's Right-Hand Man Writes a Letter to the American People.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Samuel Parker, member of the Queen Liliuokalani cabinet sailed Wednesday for Honolulu. He has been here several weeks on private business. Before leaving he gave to The Examiner a letter to the American people which may be deemed an authoritative statement of the purpose of the royalists of his country. Parker is half white and is the leading royalist of Hawaii.

He says he wants Hawaii as it was. By that he means the country during the period of constitutional monarchy from 1859 to 1893. He defends the course of the queen in refusing to grant amnesty to officers of the provisional government, saying that the constitution forbids such action on her part without the consent of the privy council. He says the Hawaiians were satisfied with their government, and when given an opportunity to express their opinions, will decide by an overwhelming majority in favor of the queen.

When the time comes for them to declare their decision they will be found ready for the declaration. Parker adds that he is not unmindful of the ultimate destiny of Hawaii. It will become associated with the United States by a protective treaty that no foreign country other than the United States can have a voice in the affairs of Hawaii. While appreciating this destiny the time is now ripe for its fulfillment. Parker cites the contract labor system in vogue in Hawaii as an argument against annexation.

The United States can do one of two things. Either it will restore the queen to the throne or else leave the settlement of the politics of Hawaii to the people of Hawaii.

An oligarchy, supported by a few bayonets, can not be maintained against the wishes of nine-tenths of the people. The letter is signed "Samuel Parker, premier of Hawaii."

FOR RELIEF OF THE IDLE.

Trades Unionists Working For Others Besides Themselves.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The various trades unions of this country are making a notable record in the way of relieving the present distress. As an example an official report just published says that the engineers' union is maintaining no less than 12,000 members, who are either out of work or on the sick list. In order to accomplish this every member of the union at work makes a weekly subscription of 50 cents to the relief fund. The compositors' union, another name for the English typographical organization, has appropriated $5,000 weekly for the relief of its members out of work, and the moulders' union is supporting 2,000 idle men by the contributions of the 13,000 of its members who are still at work. Nearly every vessel now arriving from the United States brings its share of stowaways, the majority of whom are placed under arrest on arrival on the charge of attempting to defraud the steamship companies concerned of the passage money. Several of those so arraigned during the past two weeks have told the magistrates pitiful stories of the state of labor in America, and have said that they would rather get to this country at all costs than to starve across the Atlantic.

NEGLIGENT CROSSING TENDER.

Two People Killed and Another Terribly Injured and Will Die.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb. 1.—A sad accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the Brownell Street crossing of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. A four-horse sleighing party, composed of 30 high school pupils, in charge of Instructor Everett R. Durfee, was returning from a ride in the country. When the party reached the crossing the gates were not lowered, and the sleigh started across.

The horses and half the sleigh had cleared the track when the train from Boston appeared but 100 feet distant. Some of the children saw it and jumped. At the end of the sleigh sat Brooks Borden, 16 years old, son of Colonel Spencer Borden of Governor Russell's staff, with Ray Thornton, a 15-year-old son of Charles D. Thornton, wholesale grain dealer near by. Borden was thrown into the air and picked up dead.

Thornton was ground nearly to pieces and his head severed from his body. Austin Swift, son of Laver M. G. B. Swift, was terribly injured and will die. The rest of the party escaped. The crossing tender, whose negligence had caused the accident, disappeared shortly afterwards.

BIDS FOR BONDS.

Forty-Five Million of the New Issue Already Engaged.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—At 5 o'clock yesterday President Stewart wired Secretary Carlisle that the total subscription for bonds was something in excess of $45,000,000. This included the bids of three Boston houses, Kidder, Peabody & Company, E. R. Morse & Company and R. L. Day & Company. The first named firm taking $1,500,000, the second $500,000 and an even million for the last.

The largest subscription received yesterday afternoon was that of Lazard Freres & Company, $1,000,000; J. D. Probst & Company came next, buying $700,000, Ungers, Smithers & Company following with $500,000. Hobergarten & Company bid for $350,000. The rest was taken up in small bids, ranging from $250,000 to $100,000.

Prendergast's Hearing Postponed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The hearing of the motion for a new trial in the case of Prendergast, the assassin of Mayor Harrison, was again continued for two weeks, owing to the illness of counsel. Prendergast, pale and emaciated, appeared in court for a few minutes, but was quiet and apparently unconcerned.

INTERNAL REVENUES

That Bill Placed as a Rider on the Tariff Measure.

THE DAY DEVOTED TO THE BILL.

The Tax on Whisky Increased to One Dollar but the Bonded Period Not Lengthened—An Amendment to the Income Tax Measure—A Final Vote to Be Taken Today.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The internal revenue bill was placed as a rider upon the tariff bill yesterday afternoon by a vote of 175 to 56. The entire day was spent in the consideration of amendments which were offered to the various internal revenue features. The principal fight came upon the proposal to increase the tax upon whisky from 90 cents to $1, and extend the bonded period from three to eight years.

These provisions, especially the one looking to an increase of the bonded period, were bitterly opposed by prominent members upon both sides of the house, and despite the opposition the latter proposition, that is, the one to increase the bonded period to eight years, was stricken out, while the increase of the tax from 90 cents to $1 was allowed to stand. The Kentucky members say that this will bring ruin and disaster to the whisky interests of their state. Kentucky alone has over $5,000,000 gallons of whisky now in bond, upon which the tax will be increased without giving them the benefit of an extension of the bonded period.

Only one other amendment of importance to the internal revenue features of the bill was carried. It was a provision to extend the operation of the income tax to all moneys and personal property given or bequeathed by inheritance. This, it is estimated, will increase the revenue from the income tax about $3,000,000 per annum.

After the disposal of the internal revenue amendments, a row occurred over the four amendments to the barley schedule which were pending last Saturday, and by dint of maneuvering Mr. Lockwood, who is opposing them, managed to prevent a vote until the hour of recess arrived.

At 12 o'clock today, according to the special order, the tariff bill will be reported to the house. Three hours will then be allowed for closing the debate, one and a half hours on a side. Mr. Reed will make the closing speech for his side, and Speaker Crisp and Chairman Wilson will close the Democratic side. At 3 o'clock the vote will be taken upon the bill and pending amendments. Several separate votes will probably be demanded upon amendments, among them being the amendment abolishing the sugar bounty.

Under the rule the only motion which can intervene before the final vote is taken upon the passage of the bill after the amendments are disposed of, is a motion to recommit, with or without instructions. As the Republicans have decided to refuse to join in this effort to recommit the bill, it is a foregone conclusion that it will be defeated, if made.

A semi-official estimate made by Chairman Wilson and some of his friends upon the committee who have scanned the situation gives the bill 84 majority, divided as follows: Democrats, 182; Populists, 11; total, 193, against 126 Republicans, 32 Democrats and 1 Populist (Newlands of Nevada), total, 159.

The entire time of the senate was consumed in the discussion of the resolution of Senator Stewart of Nevada, declaring that the secretary of the treasury has no power to issue the bonds for which bids have been invited.

His Own Proposition.

DECATUR, Ills., Feb. 1.—Miss Maggie Truelock and Dave Lambert were playing cards last night near Prairie Hall. In fun, the young man said: "Now, the one that wins shall shoot the other." He unloaded his revolver, as he thought, and laid it on the table. The girl won, snatched up the revolver, and pulled the trigger. One cartridge had been left in the revolver and the bullet entered Lambert's brain. He died instantly. The girl was almost crazed. Lambert had been living with John A. Paisley. The girl was the daughter of a neighbor and the couple were engaged to be married.

Miners Discuss a Reduction.

BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 1.—The block coal operators of this district met in secret conclave in this city yesterday for the purpose of determining the necessary cut to be made in the miners' wages in the spring. It is rumored that the coal magnates will ask the employees to free them from their present contract and accept a reduction in wages, which would give them steadier employment, as it would enable the operators to compete with Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania coal fields.

Race Across the Atlantic.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The mail matter carried by the White Star steamer Majestic arrived in London at midnight last night and was delivered at 8 o'clock this morning. The steamer New York arrived at Southampton at 1:20 o'clock this morning and her mails were delivered at the London office at the same time. These vessels left New York at the same time, and have raced across the Atlantic for the purpose of ascertaining by which route United States mail will first reach London.

Whenever there is friction, there is heat. Hammering a nail rod until it is redhot or forging a nail without fire are feats of the blacksmith.

The newspaper laborers in the house press gallery now sit on nice revolving piano stools. They are very popular.

OF INTEREST TO INVENTORS.

A Bill Introduced in Congress in Their Behalf.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A bill of interest to inventors has been introduced by Mr. Hall of Missouri by request. It provides that two or more patents may be obtained for an invention, whether it is capable of division mechanically or on physical lines, or the applications differ merely in the formal scope of claims presented, provided that the patents be issued on the same day, or, if not, the later ones shall be only for the unexpired term of the former.

Where two or more patents differing in form or scope of claims or otherwise have been issued the patentee may waive so much of the term of the later patents as extends beyond the expiration of the earlier so that all shall expire together, and the validity of the later shall not be affected by the existence of the first patent.

All Due to a Muskrat.

POMEROY, O., Feb. 1.—A family on a shantyboat had a rather peculiar and cooling experience at the mouth of Leading creek yesterday morning. The evening before the boat was drawn into the mouth of the stream. During the night a muskrat gnawed a hole in the bottom of the boat, and when the family awoke at daylight their beds were floating about in the room. The head of the family broke his way out through the thin ice and waded ashore with his family one at a time.

Declare Against a Reduction.

WHEELING, Feb. 1.—A meeting of delegates representing the 1,000 potters employed in this city yesterday afternoon adopted substantially the same resolutions as were passed by the East Liverpool potters some time ago, rejecting all propositions for reductions of wages. The Wheeling, LaBelle and Warwick potteries have all shut down and the Ohio Valley is working but a few men.

Kentuckians Opposed to Peekham.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 1.—The Kentucky general assembly yesterday passed a resolution requesting the two senators from Kentucky to vote against the appointment of Wheeler H. Peckham a justice of the supreme court. Political motives actuated the legislature, as Kentucky Democrats are anxious to see a majority of "true blue" Democrats on the supreme bench.

The State Must Pay the Costs.

BUYRUS, O., Feb. 1.—Some years ago John Sturgeon embezzled $4,000 from widows and orphans and fled to Honolulu. He was brought back and sent to the penitentiary for three years by the common pleas court. Yesterday the circuit court reversed the decision, remanded the case and threw the costs of extradition and first trial on the state.

Great Strike Begun.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Feb. 1.—The great strike or lockout of miners began at midnight. The fires have been drawn from the Pharmacist and Zinobia and Buena Vista mines, and it is rumored the Summit mine is also closed down. Trouble arises from the decision of mine owners to require the men to work nine hours.

Novel Way of Suiciding.

YANKTON, S. D., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Hans Olson, wife of a Norwegian farmer, committed suicide last night. She fastened a rope about her neck and then tied the other end to the axle of a wagon, then she gave the wagon a push down a hill and the weight of the vehicle strangled her to death.

Death of a Prominent Hebrew.

FORT WAYNE, Feb. 1.—Rabbi Samuel Strauss died very suddenly yesterday of heart disease, aged 79. For 20 years he had charge of the Jewish congregation at Elgin, Ind., but for the past five years has lived here in retirement. He was very prominent in Hebrew circles throughout the state.

A Despondent Woman's Deed.

ELYRIA, O., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Jacob Hartley, whose husband died recently, became despondent yesterday, and killed her 10-months-old child by cutting its throat with a razor. She then attempted to end her own existence in a like manner, inflicting several ugly gashes. Her recovery is doubtful.

Hornblower Married.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—William B. Hornblower, lately rejected by the senate as the successor of Justice Blatchford on the supreme bench, and Mrs. Emily S. Nelson, daughter of William E. Sanford, were married yesterday at St. James Episcopal church, by Rev. Dr. Cornelius Smith.

Death of a Prominent Physician.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 1.—Dr. John H. Murphy, one of the best known physicians in the northwest, died here yesterday. He had been a resident of this city for 32 years, excepting the time of his services during the war. At the time of his death he was the official surgeon of every railroad running out of St. Paul.

Fire in Fort Wayne.

FORT WAYNE, Feb. 1.—Fire early this morning completely gutted the fine 4-story stone front building in the heart of the city, occupied by Louis Wolf & Company, dry goods. The stock had just been inventoried at $80,000. The building was owned by Louis Seidel, and worth $25,000. Total loss, $85,000.

Railroad Man Dead.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Feb. 1.—L. S. Iredell, assistant superintendent of bridge carpenters on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, died at his home here.

Found Dead in Bed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—William Letz, the well known designer of grain elevators, was found dead in bed yesterday. He had been in ill health for some time.

ANARCHISTS COWED.

Deputies Raid Their Headquarters at Mansfield, Pa.

THIRTY MEN ARE ARRESTED.

Every Prisoner Was Armed Either With Knives or Revolvers—Everything Now Quiet but Trouble Looked For as Soon as the Deputies Are Retired—Foreign Consuls Inquiring About the Trouble.

MANSFIELD, Pa., Feb. 1.—The early morning reports from the deputies at every mine in the coal district received at the sheriff's headquarters in this place Wednesday, showed that quiet reigned throughout the night. Twenty-five deputy sheriffs were sent to Pittsburgh Tuesday night, and others were dismissed Wednesday. A sufficient force will be retained, however, to cope with any sudden outbreak.

Four mines in the district were in partial operation Wednesday morning. The fact that foreigners refuse to enter any of the mines is considered significant by some well-posted individuals, who contend that as soon as the deputies are removed rioting will again commence. It is also argued that the men feel that no mercy will be shown them, and in the event of another outbreak they will cause all the damage they can before surrendering.

During Tuesday night 10 deputies made a raid on Essen mine, on Painter's run, and captured 30 men—Russians, Italians and Poles. Several exciting conflicts attended the arrests, but no one received serious injury. Every prisoner was armed either with knives or revolvers. Deputy Young, with 10 men, left here at 10 a. m., to make arrests in the Tom Run district. Notice was posted here Wednesday morning signed "Pit Committee," calling upon all of the employees in the Mansfield valley to meet here Wednesday afternoon.

A deputy at Eber's Hill reported at 10 o'clock Wednesday that with a squad of assistants several raiders were arrested. He had discovered the headquarters of the anarchists. Guns and a quantity of ammunition, together with a quantity of red fire literature, were found. It was upon this house, which is almost hidden under an over-hanging bluff, that the red flag was displayed on Monday. The raids continued throughout the day.

Consuls Making Inquiries.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 1.—Cheralie Raybandi Massighia, Italian consul at Philadelphia, has requested Max Schamberg, Austrian consul here, to send him the exact information of the part taken by Italians in the Mansfield miners' riots and what course the local authorities propose taking in regard to the prosecutions. Consul Schamberg will also make a report to the Austrian government, as a large proportion of the rioters were Hungarians and Bohemians.

WANTED—WIVES.

Young Men in Oklahoma Anxious to Secure Yankee Spouses.

TOPEKA, Feb. 1.—Enmet Whitmer of Perry, O. T., stopped in this city en route to Boston and some of the factory districts of New England. His mission is a singular one. He carries the photos of 30 young men in Oklahoma who are looking for wives, and the names of about 100 more who wouldn't mind making the acquaintance of nice Yankee girls.

He said that he would be absent until March 1, and would visit some of New England towns where the mills were closed, and would quietly select and confer with such girls as he believed would suit the men who had sent him, but that he could assure the young ladies that there would be no risk in any fair looking, sensible girl going to this country and personally attending to the business of the selection of her own kind of a husband, as she would have her pick from many promising young men who would provide a comfortable, happy home.

Church Burned.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1.—The St. Rosa Catholic church, situated at Eastern avenue and Lumber street, and one of the finest structures of its kind in the city, was completely gutted by fire yesterday. The loss on building will reach $20,000; added to this the costly and beautiful furnishings and statues will bring the loss to $40,000. The insurance on the building, including the parsonage, which stands next to the church, is but $17,000, divided among the Sun Mutual Fire Insurance company, the German Mutual and the Eureka.

Threatened Duel Averted.

DENVER, Feb. 1.—The threatened duel between Colonel A. C. Fisk and Senator David Boyd has been averted. The senator wrote a letter to the colonel yesterday which the latter says is entirely satisfactory, though he refused to make it public. It is said the senator will retract his statement that the colonel never earned an honest dollar when the senate meets next Friday.

Quarrel Results in Instant Death.

BROOKVILLE, Ind., Feb. 1.—At Buena Vista, a rural village in the back part of the county, Stephen Diltz and Marion George became involved in a quarrel over a small sum of money. Diltz picked a knife clear to the handle into George's breast, producing instant death. Diltz was arrested.

DOES THE PROFESSION NEED PROTECTION?

A friend hands us a clipping from the Cincinnati Lancet-Clinic that contains an article from the American Practitioner and News in defense of "the new law regulating the practice of medicine in Kentucky." It has the ear-marks of a communication from some one of the few physicians in the State—Mr. Asterisk probably—who confess they need "protection" against the so-called quacks;—the writer is candid enough to admit that one object of the new law is "the protection of the profession against the army of quacks." It is this very feature of the act that renders it so odious to the best members of the profession. The idea of reputable physicians, physicians whose learning and skill ever command for them the confidence and patronage of the people,—the idea that such as these need protection! They don't need anything of the kind have never asked for it, and they don't like to be placed in the attitude, we feel sure, of sanctioning a law that aims to give them such "protection." Herein is the real secret of the opposition to the new act among the better class of physicians. It places them before the world in the wrong attitude. What care they for an "army of quacks?" It's the little fellows, the incompetents who cry for "protection" against the "tramp" doctor, the "specialist" if you please. The plea they set up that the people ought to be protected against the quacks is a mere subterfuge. The people have never asked for anything of the kind.

But we desire to correct some misrepresentations in the article referred to. The Practitioner and News says: "The opinion of the Kentucky doctors, with perhaps a dozen or two exceptions, is in favor of the law." If the sentiment of the better class of physicians in Mason County is taken as the criterion throughout the State, then just the reverse of the above quotation is true. Again, the Practitioner and News says:

In the published minutes of the Columbian Session of the Northeastern Kentucky Medical Association, held in Maysville, Oct. 25, '93, we find that the association unanimously voted an indorsement of the New Medical Practice act as passed by our last Legislature. Further, the Secretary of this society, in a paper read upon that occasion, quoted the act in full, with fitting comments, and met by unanswerable arguments every plea of the objectors to it.

This rather remarkable statement is sufficiently answered by the EVENING BULLETIN of October 26th. Our information was obtained from a gentleman of unquestioned veracity, who was present at the meeting. The eloquent Secretary didn't open his mouth except to second the motion of a Catlettsburg doctor.

And then the Practitioner and News copies a set of resolutions adopted by the physicians of Lexington and Fayette County indorsing the law. The resolutions state that there are seventy-four physicians in the said city and county, but the Practitioner and News probably failed to note that only thirty-nine of them signed the paper indorsing the law.

In closing, the Practitioner and News says "the dissenters in Warren County are only eight in number," yet we are reliably informed that all the physicians in that county except one are opposed to the law.

By reference to the proceedings of the Legislature it will be seen that efforts are being made to repeal the law or strike out the objectionable features, and if the sentiment of the best members of the profession is regarded it will be wiped off the statute books.

The Ripley Bazar has been enlarged and comes to us now in a handsome new dress. Mr. H. E. Frost is editor, and Mr. W. G. Jones, formerly of the Ledger, editor. They are getting up an excellent paper, and we wish them success.

REPUBLICAN INCONSISTENCY.

Republicans ought to be a little more consistent on the tariff question. They have raised a great cry against the reduction proposed by the Democrats as outlined in the Wilson bill, but just read the following:

It would seem that the improvements in machinery and processes made within the last twenty years, and the high scale of productiveness which has become a characteristic of their establishments, would permit our manufacturers to compete with their foreign rivals under a substantial reduction of existing duties."—Republican Tariff Commission, 1882.

Concerning the report of this Tariff Commission, the New York Tribune said:

The report is a brave and honest effort to do just what the needs and interests of the country demand. * * * The Commission proposes a substantial reduction of 20 to 25 per cent. in the duties. The Commission recognizes that excessive duties tend to bring the American system into discredit, to endanger its stability, and to render industrial enterprises uncertain and unnecessarily risky and costly. The present tariff, created in time of war, was needed to build and develop the industries; the Commission recognizes the fact that a different range of duties is needful in time of peace. * * * Reform of the tariff in that line is possible at this session, and would be of incalculable benefit to the country.

This was in 1882. Instead of reforming the tariff and making "substantial reductions," the Republicans made the duties still higher.

The author of the bill aimed at electric street railways in the smaller cities of the Commonwealth now wants "all wires charged with electricity placed underground." The sensible members of the Legislature should open their batteries on him.

A FEW sugar producers down in Louisiana will get $11,000,000 bounty on their last year's crop, and this big sum will come out of the people's treasury.

QUIT LEGISLATING

And Have Gone to Instructing—The Kentucky House After Judge Peckham.

The Kentucky House of Representatives yesterday turned aside from the business they were chosen to attend to and spent the time adopting resolutions telling the U. S. Senators how to vote on questions coming before them.

The House started off with a resolution from Judge Beckner, of Clark County, proposing to instruct the Senators from this State in Congress to vote against the confirmation of Judge Wheeler Peckham or any other man as a Judge in the Supreme Court, who cannot fully establish his Democracy.

The resolution came in the nature of a bomb. Judge Beckner, in support of the resolution, said he thought Mr. Cleveland had made a mistake in selecting Mr. Peckham.

He said the Supreme Court had been composed of Republican Justices for a quarter of a century, and now that the Democratic party was in power he thought Democrats and not Mugwumps should be nominated for all vacancies that might occur.

The discussion showed signs of branching out widely, and to prevent it a motion to table the resolution was injected by Mr. Krieger, of Louisville.

The House voted this motion down by a large majority, and the resolution was then adopted by a vote of 53 to 23.

Mr. Quigley thought that the House was dabbling with a matter in which it had no interest and with an air which indicated disgust he moved that a committee of three members be appointed to go to Washington at the expense of the State, and present the resolution adopted to Senators Blackburn and Lindsay.

Only $1.50 to Cincinnati and Return.

On Wednesday, February 14, the C. and O. will run its second theatrical excursion of the season to Cincinnati. Tickets will be good on all regular trains on this date and returning on special train leaving Cincinnati at 11:30 p. m. Round trip rate from Maysville only $1.50.

Following is the list of attractions at the leading theatres: Walnut Street, Fanny Davenport, in her great spectacular production, "Cleopatra;" Grand Opera House, the Lilliputian in "A Trip to Mars;" Havlin's Theatre, Duncan B. Harrison in the strong melo-drama, "The Paymaster." First-class legitimate and vaudeville attractions will be at Heuck's, People's and Fountain theatres and Robinson's Opera House. Wednesday being regular matinee day, this will give parties going an opportunity of visiting both afternoon and evening performances. For further particulars, see small bills, or address nearest ticket agent.

Ministers Meeting.

A meeting of the ministers of the city is desired this afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the study at the Baptist Church. Business of importance.

For RENT—Nice room, heated by steam, on second floor over Mitchell, Finch & Co.'s Bank. Possession given February 1st. Apply at bank.

REVOKED HIS CERTIFICATE.

J. W. H. Powell, the Colored Teacher, Again Loses—The Trustees After Him.

November 13th, 1893, the trustees and sundry citizens of Colored School District No. 110, of Murphysville, filed written charges against the teacher, J. W. H. Powell, (colored), and asked the County Superintendent to revoke his certificate and remove him from the school.

They charged that the district did not want Powell; that his control of the school caused general dissatisfaction; that he had caused great disturbance and uproar in the school and neighborhood; that he offered trustee Amos Grey $25 and his wife Anna Grey $5, to give him the school; that he procured the school, by methods that wholly disqualified him as a teacher; that he had caused confusion and trouble in other school districts, and boasted of the number of law suits he had had with school trustees, etc., etc.

Mr. Blattermann tried the case November 18th, 1893, as mentioned by the BULLETIN at the time, and took the matter under consideration. On November 20th, he revoked Powell's certificate and removed him from the school.

Powell appealed to the State Superintendent who finally remanded the case back for a new trial de novo, without assigning any reason whatever for doing so.

The case was called again last Saturday and about fifty colored people came from Murphysville, Washington, Mayslick, Helena and Lewisburg to attend the trial as witnesses. The entire day was consumed in listening to the testimony and at the close County Superintendent G. W. Blatterman took the case under advisement and on Tuesday again decided against Powell and revoked his certificate.

The case has greatly stirred up the colored people and both the prosecution and the defense has been pushed vigorously. Sallee & Sallee have conducted the prosecution, while Galbraith & Johnson and George W. Sulser have managed the defense. Attorney Harry C. Curran took down the minutes of the trial Saturday.

Powell is a stubborn fighter and will in all likelihood try another appeal.

Mason the Pioneer Tobacco County.

Major Henry T. Stanton in a recent article in the Louisville Post says: "Mason was the pioneer tobacco county of Kentucky. The first marketable crops were grown in the rich lands envioning the little town of Dover, land the industry spread with great rapidity until it became common to many adjoining counties along the banks of the Ohio. It was shipped in large quantities to Philadelphia, and all crops produced between the mouth of the Big Sandy and the mouth of Beargrass were known only as Mason County tobacco. It was much heavier, darker and stronger than the tobacco now produced in the same region, though not so heavy as that peculiar to the rich alluvial lands of Western Kentucky. It was manufactured into pig-tail, or navy chewing tobacco and ground into smoking tobacco. Some of it went in the leaf to Europe, where it was used for the manufacture of a beautiful royal purple dye for silks and wools of fine texture. Its employment for dyeing was long ago superseded by the finer aniline colors. The white burley leaf is now common to nearly all parts of Central Kentucky."

IN MEMORIAM.

The following lines are lovingly inscribed to the memory of Mrs. M. J. McCarthy, our much-loved pupil of former days:

How often, in nooks unexpected,
 We discover a flower most rare;
 To its hiding place gently attracted
 By the fragrance that perfumes the air.

And how often, in humble seclusion,
 Far away from the world's noisy strife,
 Do we meet with a spirit angelic,
 Like a lily, 'mid briars of life.

And of such was the dear one we're mourning,
 In our desolate sorrow of soul—
 While we still struggle wearily onward,
 She is safe at the coveted goal.

Yes, her heart was a fair lily chalice,
 With its whiteness unsullied by sin,
 And the virtues most pleasing to Jesus,
 Were the bright golden stamens within.

In her patient, unselfish devotion,
 'Twas a pathway heroic she trod;
 Tho' the work of her mission seemed earthly,
 Yet her heart she had given to God.

So to-day, tho' we weep o'er the off'ring,
 And our love fondly clings to it still,
 We can trustingly lay our heart's treasure,
 On the altar of God's holy will.

At last a medical work that tells the causes, describes the effects, points the remedy. This is scientifically the most valuable, artistically the most beautiful, medical book that has appeared for years; 96 pages, every page bearing a half-tone illustration in tints. Some of the subjects treated are Nervous Debility, Impotency, Sterility, Development of Varicocele, The Husband, Those Intending Marriage, etc. Every man who would know the grand truths, the plain facts, the old secrets, and the new discoveries of medical science as applied to married life, who would atone for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should write for this wonderful little book. It will be sent free, under seal. Address the publishers, Erie Medical Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

BUSINESS REVIVING.

Factories at Many Points Resuming, and Times Improving.

Here Are a Few Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges of Late.

ANDERSON, IND.—The De Pauw Plate Glass Company, at Alexandria, is to be reorganized and will resume operations at the largest plant of its kind in the West. In this city the Victor Window Glass Works has resumed after a year's shut-down. The American Wire Nail Works are now in full blast with 500 men on the pay-roll, and almost every factory in the city, excepting those controlled by a trust of some kind, is in operation.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—One by one the great iron and steel mills of this city and vicinity are steadily resuming operations. A prominent mill man said to-day: "Orders that are to be used immediately will be filled first, and those that are not so pressing will be used to fill in the remainder of the time, and will keep the mills running."

McKEESPORT, PA.—After an idleness of several weeks about half the departments of the National Tube Works resumed operations this morning. Fully 1,000 men went to work at the terms offered by the company. This afternoon other departments of the National Rolling Mill resumed, and about the same number of men were given employment.

WILMINGTON, DEL.—To accommodate their increasing business the morocco manufacturing firm of F. Blumenthal & Co., of this city, will at once erect an annex to their factory, 40x170 feet, and two stories high, with walls heavy enough to allow of the addition of other floors hereafter.

STAFFORD SPRINGS, CONN.—The Phoenix Woollen Mill is running night and day, with a full force of hands. The officers say business has been picking up rapidly since January 1, and they have enough orders ahead to insure work for several months at least.

HARRISBURG, PA.—Work in the finishing department of the Lochiel Iron Works was resumed giving 75 men employment, and the Universal Mill of the Central Iron works also resumed operations.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y.—P. P. Argersinger & Co. and Ireland Bros., glove manufacturers, have resumed business with small forces. The number of hands will be steadily increased from week to week.

VINELAND, N. J.—The receipt of large orders recently has caused the employees of the Blaisdell Machine Factory to work overtime. A number of new men have also been given work.

HOMESTEAD, PA.—All the mills in the entire plant of the Carnegie Steel Company are on double turn except three, and it is claimed that they will be on double turn soon.

CHILLICOTHE, O.—After a shut-down since May last, the Chillicothe Union Shoe Company, a leading local industry, has increased its capital and has resumed work in full.

KUTZTOWN, PA.—The Keystone Shoe Manufacturing Company, employing 100 hands, has started its factory on full time. The prospects are bright for the spring trade.

PLYMOUTH, PA.—The Boxburgh Carpet Mills have resumed operations after five weeks suspension, giving employment to 1,150 hands.

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—With orders sufficient to keep it busy all winter, the New Haven Rolling Mill has resumed operations in full.

NEWPORT, N. H.—The woolen mill of D. Richards & Son, in Newport, has run continuously for the past thirty-eight years.

READING, PA.—The Reading Rolling Mill, which usually employs 400 hands, started up with about its usual force.

Interesting Lectures.

Rev. Geo. P. Weaver will deliver a series of lectures at the Third Street M. E. Church, Feb. 5th, 6th, 7th, handsomely illustrated by stereopticon views. He has just returned from a six months' tour through Scotland, England, France and Italy, and has secured the best views of cathedrals, palaces, art galleries and public buildings, including exteriors and interiors, together with the master pieces of statuary and paintings.

Mr. Weaver made a careful study of the habits and manners of the people, and will present much of the amusing as well as instructive things of the Old World.

The price of admission has been reduced to meet the present stringent times, so that no one need fail to enjoy these valuable lectures. All should avail themselves of this rare opportunity to see the best in Europe.

SHE SCHOTTISCHED.

But Didn't Consider it Dancing—Millersburg Stirred Up Over the Affair.

Bourbon News: "Rev. Talliaferro, of Carlisle, who is assisting Rev. Dan'l Robertson in a protracted meeting at the Methodist Church at Millersburg, recently preached a red-hot sermon on the wickedness of dancing and stated that neither of his daughters had ever danced. Next day, Arthur Thomason, son of Mr. Ben Thomason, a wealthy tobacco buyer and raiser, remarked to some friends that he had seen one of Rev. Talliaferro's daughters dance.

"Rev. Talliaferro heard of young Thomason's statement, and denied it and made him a personal offer of ten dollars to prove it. Thomason and Jesse Letton, son of Mr. J. H. Letton, went before 'Squire Resin Boulden and made affidavit that young Letton had danced last summer at Blue Licks with Rev. Talliaferro's daughter.

"In presence of Rev. Robinson, Messrs. Thomason and Letton, and her father, the young lady admitted that she schottisched across the parlor once and back with Mr. Letton, but that she did not consider it dancing. Miss Talliaferro stated this fact before the congregation at the M. E. Church, in Millersburg, Saturday night. Rev. Talliaferro paid Mr. Thomason the promised 'tenner.'

"To disinterested persons the above occurrence looks like much ado about a small matter. Mr. Letton is a gentleman in the full sense of the word and Miss Talliaferro is a lovely and modest young lady."

WEDDED AT WINCHESTER.

The Popular Pastor of the M. E. Church, South, and Miss Rosa V. Fitch Married.

Rev. T. W. Watts, the popular pastor of the M. E. Church, South, of this city, and Miss Rosa Vertner Fitch, of Winchester, were quietly united in the holy bonds of matrimony yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride, her father, Rev. J. W. Fitch, officiating.

After receiving the hearty congratulations and good wishes of those present, the newly-wedded took the train for this city, arriving here at 8:30 o'clock. They have rooms at Mr. James Smith's on West Second street, near the groom's church, and these the ladies of the congregation had fitted up in elegant style. A cordial welcome awaited the popular pastor and his lovely bride.

The Winchester Democrat says: "The groom is a native of Clark County, and one of her sons of whom she is proud. He is emphatically a self-made man and, while already prominent in the ranks of Kentucky preachers, bids fair to attain a position in the very front rank. He was formerly a pastor in Kansas City, Mo., and resigned to take a position as Professor in Kentucky Wesleyan College. Last fall he was assigned by the conference to the church at Maysville, where he is very popular.

"The bride is a daughter of Rev. J. W. Fitch, and is a lovable, christian woman, than which no higher praise can be accorded any woman."

The bride's father was formerly Presiding Elder of the Maysville District and is one of the most prominent members of the Kentucky Conference.

W. H. THROCKMORTON, teller of the National Bank of Cynthia, one of the best-known men in that section, died one night this week after only five days' illness, of typhoid pneumonia. During a connection of over twenty-five years with the bank he had never before been kept from business a single day on account of sickness. Deceased was a friend of Mr. John W. Boulden, of this city.

MARY FRAZIER, one of the wealthiest colored women in the United States, is visiting her mother at Paris. Her home is in California. The Bourbon News says: "For years she has been waiting maid for Mrs. Judge Seabright, widow of a California millionaire. Several years ago the girl was hurt by being caught in a door which the Judge closed hastily, and was severely injured. The Judge made all possible amends at the time, and when he died left her upwards of $45,000 in Government bonds, from which she receives 4 per cent interest."

A WRITER in the Vegetarian has discovered a new reason for sleepiness in church. He says that the phenomenon has nothing to do with the length of the sermon or dullness of the preacher; it has a really interesting scientific explanation and a worshiper ought no more be blamed for his somnolence than a person under the influence of chloroform for "going off" after a few sniffs. The fact is that people in church are hypnotized. The process takes place through their ears. Their attention is concentrated on a single figure and what that figure is saying, and silence elsewhere, combined with the subdued light, helps to create just the same sort of conditions as are observable at spiritualistic seances.

Another Route to the Seaboard.

"If times brighten up," remarked a railroad man to a reporter at Portsmouth, "you may expect to see within two years, or three at most, the C. and O. running trains through to Charleston, S. C., via the Three C's route. The O. and B. S. road up Big Sandy, owned by the C. and O., will be extended this summer from its present terminus at White House, just above Richardson, Ky., to the breaks of the Cumberland mountains, forty miles or more, and this part is now, I understand, under contract. The C. and O. will eventually have a line on both sides of the N. and W."

Excursion to Lookout Mountain.

On February 1st and 15th, the C. and O. will sell round trip tickets to Lookout Mountain, Tenn., at $27.35, which includes parlor car going and sleeper returning, meals en route and hotel accommodations for three days on Lookout Mountain.

Revival Meetings.

The congregation at Mitchell Chapel witnessed last night a wonderful demonstration of God's power. The audience was large, the congregational singing inspiring; cries for mercy mingled with the shouts of praise. Four additions and three conversions and many at the altar of prayer. "Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord." Services at 6:30 this evening.

"Every-day Needs for Every-day People" will be Rev. E. B. Oake's subject at the Christian Church to-night at 7:30 o'clock. There was a good attendance last night, and the speaker had the closest attention throughout his eloquent discourse. The public invited to hear him to-night.

SHOOTING HONKERS.

GREAT SPORT WHICH IS FOUND IN THE NORTHWEST.

Countless Swarms Which Congregate Between the Red River Valley and the Mississippi—Shooting Does Not Appear to Diminish Their Number.

Wild goose hunting on the plains of the northwest is a sport which always has great charm even for the experienced Nimrod. It is a sport replete with incident and a recreation which must once be indulged in to be thoroughly appreciated. The wild goose is known in all parts of North America, but in no section of the country does this bird appear in such numbers as in that territory lying between the Red river valley and the Missouri river. There the geese swarm in countless numbers and become corpulent on the grains of No. 1 hard which have been shaken from the stalk by the reaper and are lying in the stubble everywhere. Large numbers of the birds are killed by resident hunters and for eastern markets, but no apparent diminution is noticeable in the size and number of the flocks to be seen when the shooting season begins each year.

An hour's lively sport with the honkers on the wheatfields of North Dakota means but one thing to the inexperienced hunter, and that is something for his pains, especially if he happens to get in a well concealed stand directly in the line of flight. Then it is nothing uncommon for him to "tumble over" a wagon load of geese in very short order. Wild geese are a staple commodity in North Dakota and readily bring from $2.50 to $3 per dozen during the shooting season. In the little towns and stations along the Northern Pacific railway, during the fall and spring flights, almost everybody turns out for a few hours in the morning and toward the close of the day to shoot at the geese, and a right warm reception are the birds treated to. Many will ride to the outskirts of the town and shoot from a buggy or wagon at the passing myriads overhead and occasionally bring down a bird at long range.

The hunter who is out for business and is shooting for market and the money there is in it drives out 10 or 15 miles over the prairie several hours before daylight, and after selecting a spot where the geese have been seen in great numbers the day before digs a pit in the ground large enough to conceal himself and arranges the stubble or grass about the mouth of it so as to present a natural appearance. Close by he plants his decoys and settles back in the pit and anxiously awaits the coming of the morning. It is still dark, but from every quarter of the prairie come sounds of animal life which foretell the coming of a new day. The mournful cry of the curlew is heard overhead, and a flock of plover demonstrate their close proximity by the hurrying noise of their wings.

For some time he sits in a cramped position, listening to the booming notes of a prairie chicken, which bird is pouring forth a volume of drumlike sounds. The sharp yelp of a coyote not far away is unmistakable evidence that that thriving, skulking animal has jumped up a cotton tail and is hustling for an early breakfast. At the first peeping of the gray dawn the hunter suddenly hears a welcome sound—the faint and faraway honk-honk of the goose. He examines his gun and notes the direction of the sound. Nearer and nearer the sound comes, and finally he ventures to take a peep out of the pit and discovers the distant outlines of a large flock spread out V shaped in the morning sky, bearing off to one side. Apparently they have not seen the decoys, and the hunter thinks it is yet too dark.

Suddenly the leader is seen to waver, and with loud cries the flock turns and circles around the decoys as if suspicious of their genuineness, but drawing nearer at each turn. They have approached within easy shooting distance, and just as soon as the flock pitches down among the decoys the loud bang! bang! of a heavily loaded shotgun is heard, and two puffs of smoke are seen coming apparently from the surface of the earth a short distance away. Several geese are lying on the ground, and one is skimming away over the prairie with a tipped wing.

Some other flocks appear, and the shooting becomes lively until the sun is fully two hours high, when the flocks diminish, both in size and number, and with the exception of a few stragglers the morning flight is over.

Crystal Springs is the name of a small station on the Northern Pacific, 30 miles west of Jamestown, N. D. There are several small alkali lakes in close proximity to the station and a number of springs in the hills near by, from which the place gained its name. The town proper consists of a depot, boarding house and water tank and a population not exceeding 10 souls. One April morning a few years or so since the writer, in company with the telegraph operator at the place, sallied forth in quest of geese, large flocks of which were seen circling around and alighting on a small lake, fringed with bushes and tall grass, not over a mile from the station. After a full hour spent in crawling over the ground and keeping out of sight as much as possible the hunters crept through the grass to the bushes and looked cautiously out.

Upward of 1,000 geese were sporting on the water, diving, squawking and carrying on at a great rate. When the edge of the flock had come within 80 yards the hunters raised their guns and gave them a barrel, following it up with the remaining barrel as they rose heavily from the water. Twenty-eight geese were gathered up as the result of the shot, 24 of them the white or brant geese. The remaining four were fine specimens of that variety of all birds of its species—the blackhead or Canadian goose. The morning's work was highly satisfactory.—Cleveland Leader.

Don Cameron's Washington House.

Don Cameron, who is now serving his fourth term in the senate, has lived for years in a house which he owns on the east side of Lafayette square, within sight of the White House. It is one of the most tasteful houses in Washington, built of yellow brick in the comfortable colonial style, and the senator has lately had it entirely refitted at a cost of $15,000. Its vicinage is historic. In the house on the corner, now occupied by the Cosmos club, the largest scientific club in the world, Dolly Madison lived for 15 years, and on the other side of the Cameron residence is the house in which Blaine died.

DON CAMERON'S RESIDENCE.

Bound, Gagged and Robbed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Banker E. P. Robertson and his wife were bound and gagged by three men at their home, Maple Park, 50 miles from here, Tuesday night, and the house ransacked. About dark the men appeared at the house and, covering the banker and his wife with revolvers, proceeded to bind and gag them. The robbers' search was not well rewarded, as they received but $20. A posse is scouring the vicinity in search of the desperadoes, of whom a good description was secured.

Faulkner's Reward.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Senator Faulkner of West Virginia is said to be the coming chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, with Lawrence Gardner as secretary. Mr. Faulkner is remembered in this connection for his compromise proposition during the debate over the silver repeal bill. Congressman Stevens of Massachusetts is also spoken of for chairman, but the controlling influences of the committee tend toward the choice of Mr. Faulkner.

Fugitive From Justice Locked Up.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 1.—D. C. Johnson, who gives spiritualistic seances for a living, was arrested here yesterday by a deputy marshal, who had papers from the chief of police of Cincinnati, ordering his arrest as a fugitive from justice. Johnson admitted that he got "straw" bail in Cincinnati, where he was charged with fraud, and thought it advisable "to avoid notoriety" by flight. He is locked up in jail, awaiting the coming of officers from Cincinnati.

Gold Boom in Colorado.

DENVER, Feb. 1.—For months there has been a steady increase in the gold bullion deposited at the Denver mint, and the prediction that Colorado will see next spring one of the biggest gold booms in the history of the country has every indication of being verified. The bullion purchased at the mint during January exceeded the purchases of January, 1893, by $93,000 and amounted to several thousand dollars more than the purchases in December.

The Cashier Robbed the Bank.

ELLAVILLE, Ga., Feb. 1.—Detectives from Atlanta have located the burglar of the Planters' bank in the person of J. C. Clark, the cashier, who stood high in the community. He tried to commit suicide with laudanum but failed. Of the amount taken something over $4,000 was found, $3,600 of which was in Clark's pocket. Speculation, Clark claims, caused him to make way with the money.

Both Men Mortally Wounded.

DANVILLE, Ky., Feb. 1.—Timothy Fry and James Jones, both negroes, got into an altercation three miles from town yesterday and in the fight both men were mortally wounded. Fry first shot Jones in the stomach and then Jones got the pistol and shot Fry twice in the abdomen. The fight is said to have grown out of a crap game, in which 25 cents was involved.

Shot His Father Three Times.

PEORIA, Ills., Feb. 1.—Robert Jones, 19 years old, sent three bullets into his father because he refused to buy him a pair of shoes. The injured man was removed to the hospital and is in a critical condition. The boy gave himself up, saying that he had killed his father and was glad of it. He is believed to be crazy.

Gladstone Not to Resign.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Sir Algernon West, who is with Mr. Gladstone at Biarritz, has been authorized to declare that the statement that Mr. Gladstone had decided to resign, is untrue.

PITTSBURG, Kan., Feb. 1.—A mine explosion occurred yesterday in the Ratliff mine just west of Pittsburg. Most of the miners had just left the shaft, but two men, Bob Ratliff and another named Jones, were so badly injured that they will die.

Special Indian Agent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—William A. Winder of San Diego, Cal., has been appointed special agent to make allotment of Indian lands in the Round Valley reservation, Cal.

DUE TO STARVATION.

John McBride's Views of the Recent Miners' Riots.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 1.—John McBride, president of the United Mine Workers of America, said to a reporter of The Evening Dispatch that the direct cause of the Pittsburg mining riots was starvation. The miners hold the operators responsible for that condition. Being desperate, the miners destroyed property. The Pittsburg district is only part of the competitive field comprising the mines of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, western Pennsylvania and a part of West Virginia.

A fair relative price has been paid for mining. The relative price was based upon competitive grounds. Neither the selling price of coal in the market, nor the price of mining in any part of the competitive field had been reduced when the Pittsburg operators forced a reduction in the price paid the miners.

The price of mining at Pittsburg finally dropped from 79 cents, the price on the competitive basis per ton, to as low as 40 cents. The depressed state of the coal trade gave the miners less than half work. It was difficult for them to live on their earnings. With mining prices per ton as low as 40, 50 and 60 cents and credit denied at the stores, the men were enduring some of the hardships of hunger.

The prices of coal were also cut. Lump coal selling at $1.10 per ton to f. o. b., dropped to from 65 cents to 80 cents per ton. The run of the mine is selling at 50 cents, f. o. b. Nut and slack, formerly profitable, is now a dead weight. On account of these things at Pittsburg, West Virginia miners have been compelled to accept reduced rates.

Mr. McBride says the Ohio mines are practically closed and that the Ohio miners must also accept wages below the scale to meet Pittsburg rates or do without work. He closes by rapping the knuckles of the men who brought the non-English speaking miners here because they were supposed to be more tractable than the native born, or English-speaking workmen, and are now abusing the Huns because they are desperate on account of a lack of work at rates necessary to keep them in food.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

Relating to Poisons, Prescriptions, Physicians and Practice.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 1.—The Brooklyn Public Health society has completed a joint committee representing also the National Constitutional Liberty league, Boston, and the New York Public Health and Constitutional Liberty league, and declared in favor of legislation requiring: 1. Physicians to write prescriptions legibly and when possible in English (and Latin if they choose). 2. That medicines dispensed by physicians and others containing poisonous ingredients shall be by them legibly labeled "Caution. Take only as directed." 3. Restoring to every citizen the right to freely contract for the services of whomsoever he considers competent to treat or heal him or his family without rendering the person thus employed liable to prosecution, except for malpractice.

The joint committee call upon all in sympathy with such legislation to address it at Room 18, 331 Madison avenue, New York city.

Man and Wife Mysteriously Poisoned.

JACKSON, Mo., Feb. 1.—W. Y. Walker, well known throughout this section as senior member of the firm of Walker & Colner, with his wife, was poisoned Tuesday evening at supper in some mysterious manner. Mrs. Walker died yesterday morning and Mr. Walker an hour later. The poison is supposed to have been administered in their coffee but how there is no clue. Walker is not known to have had an enemy and so far as known no one was in their house for some hours previous to the fatal meal. An investigation is in progress.

Natural Gas in Illinois.

ROBINSON, Ills., Feb. 1.—Some dozen or more wells in this vicinity, while being drilled at a depth of over a hundred feet, have given strong indications of natural gas on a farm a few miles south of the city. A few weeks ago a pretty strong vein of gas was struck at a depth of 170 feet. It was piped to the house and utilized for light and heating and still holds out after a two weeks' test.
